

FLOWERS LEADING

MONROVIA MAN PROBABLE WINNER IN CONGRESSIONAL RACE IN THIS DISTRICT

Montville Flowers, candidate for Congress at the primaries is just as good as nominated on the Republican ticket in the Ninth district.

At one o'clock this afternoon, 462 precincts out of 598 gave the following vote:

Flowers	6493
Randall	5828
Odell	2733
Reagan	2127
Musket	1642

For Randall to overcome the Flowers vote he must make a gain of 665, which seems very improbable as the returns are now coming in from the country districts in Flowers' favor.

The 136 precincts to hear from are in outlying districts and Flowers has proven that he is strong in these parts.

POPE WOULD AID IN PEACE PLANS

By Henry Wood
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
ROME, Aug. 12. (By Mail.)—In preparation for the great "after the war" task of re-establishing the entire world on a basis of permanent peace, the Vatican is pursuing a steady policy of resuming and establishing diplomatic relations with as many countries as possible.

By being in direct and official contact with all of the leading nations of the world, the Vatican hopes to be in position to lend aid and influence to those of the United States and allied belligerents, who with the close of the war, will assume the leadership, in attempting to render impossible for all time to come a similar catastrophe.

Already the Vatican has met with marked success in its efforts.

Shortly after opening of the war, and without any reference to the above mentioned policy, diplomatic relations were resumed between England and the Vatican and a papal nuncio also was accepted at Constantinople by the Ottoman Empire.

More recently the Vatican has been able to resume full diplomatic relations with Portugal, and to enter into relations with China and Japan. In this way the Vatican is already in official relation with various nations representing all of the principal regions of the world.

Diplomatic negotiations are understood to be under way between the Vatican and Switzerland for an exchange of diplomatic representatives. Official announcement that such an understanding has been reached may be expected at any moment.

One of the dearest projects along this line which His Holiness is declared in competent circles to have at heart is to see the apostolic delegate at Washington raised to the position of a papal nuncio or papal ambassador. At the present time no official relations exist between the United States and the Vatican. The apostolic delegate at Washington is merely there in a semi-official capacity to watch over interests of American Catholics.

Should the United States consent to having this position raised to that of a nunciature, this would provide for a regular exchange of diplomatic representatives between the Vatican and Washington. The lead with England and other Protestant, to say nothing of Mohammedan and Buddhist, states have taken in establishing diplomatic relations with the Holy See would not make this step on the part of the United States, it is pointed out, any great departure from previous customs.

There always is more or less probability of an eventual resumption of diplomatic relations between France and the Vatican. Unofficial steps are in progress nearly all the time, and it is practically certain that sooner or later these will develop into official negotiations.

There seems every likelihood that at the end of the war, the Vatican will be in a position to lend its influence in an official and effective manner towards establishment of a permanent world peace, and towards settlement of the various humanitarian questions that the "after the war" period is certain to bring.

SOUTH JERSEY PICNIC

The annual picnic of former residents of Vineland, N. J., and other nearby parts of Southern New Jersey will be held this year at Pomona on Labor Day, September 2nd.

Mrs. C. B. Killgore and little son Bradford went to El Centro Tuesday night to join Chester, who is working there in a Ford service station.

PATRIOTIC MEETING

SPEAKERS' BUREAU OF WAR SAVINGS COMMITTEE TO FURNISH PROGRAM SUNDAY

Glendale is to have the benefit of a new and novel government service which has been established under the Speakers' Bureau of the War Savings Committee which sends out four-minute men, and stimulates patriotic action in other ways.

This committee is now prepared to furnish complete programs made up of the best talent to be had among musicians and artists in other lines who are willing to go from town to town and give free entertainments in connection with snappy speeches by the best orators.

Our city is to be favored with its first entertainment of this kind next Sunday at 3 o'clock at the High School auditorium. The program will be fine and all Glendale will be asked to do will be to furnish the auditorium and the audience. That ought to be easy, and Professor Harry Howe, now back from Coachella Valley, and other members of our local War Savings Committee, are anxious that Glendale's citizenship should register 100 per cent of appreciation and patriotism at this first "government entertainment." It is at a convenient hour and on a convenient day for afternoon attendance. Everybody should come out and enjoy it.

MUSICAL AFTERNOON TEA

The informal musical given Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. S. Chase, 1500 Riverdale drive, by Mrs. Chase and Mrs. William E. Farlander in compliment to Mrs. Farlander's guest, Miss Gifford, and Mrs. Robert N. Yost of 1420 Riverdale drive, soon to leave for San Diego, was a delightful affair. Pink roses and yellow garden flowers were effectively employed in the decoration of the reception parlors. Miss Jane Dean of Los Angeles and Mrs. George Lyons of Glendale contributed piano selections. Mrs. Yost gave several charming vocal numbers, and Madame Katherine Shank sang effectively some of the latest war songs, for which Mrs. Le Roy Bosserman furnished the piano accompaniment. Dainty refreshments which patriotically conformed to Mr. Hoover's instructions, were served at the close of the afternoon. The guest list included Mrs. and Miss Jane Dean, Mrs. Manbert and Mrs. Stevens, mother of Mrs. Farlander, all of Los Angeles, Mesdames Richard J. Leonhardt, Minnie Patterson, George Lyons, O. E. Von Oven, Stephen Packer, Mack Rogers, John Fraser, Colin Cable, Edmond Shank, Harry Rogers, Le Roy Bosserman, L. V. Ashton, Merrill Russell, R. Gilbert, S. Nana-maker, J. F. Hearnshaw, Marie Viohl, and Miss Augusta Otto.

TRUCKMAN EXONERATED

The verdict of the coroner's jury at the inquest held Wednesday morning over the body of E. M. McClure, a former resident of this city, who died Saturday night after being run down by an auto truck at Vernon Junction, was "death by unavoidable accident." The truck driver explained to the jury that he was confused and lost control of his machine, that he had come to an understanding with the family of deceased and was ready to make all the reparation possible.

Services held in the Little Church of the Flowers Wednesday afternoon were largely attended and the floral tributes were numerous and very beautiful. The funeral was in charge of the Glendale Elks' Lodge, of which the deceased had been a charter member. The impressive ritualistic service was read by Exalted Ruler Bert P. Woodard, assisted by Chaplain C. Irving Mills. Mrs. Frank Arnold sang "Lead, Kindly Light" and "There Will Be One Vacant Chair."

RESPOND TO CALL

Oscar Andrew Burchard, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Burchard, of 1566 Penn avenue, this city, has accepted the opportunity to be inducted for special mechanical training at Berkeley, California, at government expense, and will report September 1st at the government school in that city, where instruction is given in blacksmithing, electrical work, telegraphy, wireless operation, etc.

Walter August Krug, son of Mrs. A. D. Pierce of 257 East 5th street, has made application for mechanical training at Oakland, where he is to report September 1st, and where the course includes instruction in auto construction, blacksmithing, carpentry, ignition and chauffeur work.

No registrant has taken advantage of the chance to go to Tucson, Arizona, for similar training.

ON THE WESTERN FRONT

FRENCH FIGHTING IN NOYON—AUSTRALIANS AND CANADIANS MAKE IMPORTANT ADVANCES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, August 29.—The French today are fighting in the outskirts of Noyon. The town now forms the apex of a short salient and is already outflanked from the northwest. The Germans are putting up a fierce defense with machine guns.

The fall of Noyon will remove the last big obstacle before Guiscard, five miles distant.

The French have enlarged their hold on the west bank of the Somme canal over a wide front south of Peronne where reports say the Germans retreated precipitately.

The French have crossed the Roye-Noyon road at two points and reached villages beyond.

British official statements reported comparative quiet north of the Somme. South of the Somme the British continued heavy pressure against the Germans. It is announced that since August 21 the British have taken 26,000 prisoners.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, August 29.—Canadian troops today advanced to within a mile of Bullecourt. In the meantime the Australians captured Fuillers and several other villages and advanced to within three miles of the highly important Somme bridge south of Peronne.

The British have taken Gunchy, south of Bapaume.

The gains of the last 24 hours have brought the allies to within four miles of Peronne and five miles of Ham.

PARIS, August 29.—Newspapers here this afternoon said it is understood that both Noyon and Ham have been "entirely vanquished."

HENEY CONCEDES DEFEAT

DEMOCRATS OUT OF THE RACE—GOVERNOR STEPHENS PRACTICALLY RE-ELECTED AT PRIMARY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, August 29.—Francis J. Heney in a statement to the United Press this morning conceded his defeat for the democratic nomination for governor. He declared that although Rolph can not run on the democratic ticket this fall on account of his failure to win in his own party, he now considers himself out of the race. "I intend to take no further action," he said. Stephens headquarters here maintain that this means that Governor Stephens was practically elected at the primary.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 29.—Democratic leaders here this morning declared they will contest the state primary law in an effort to gain the right to put a candidate for governor on the ballot in November.

Under the law Heney's defeat leaves the democrats without a candidate.

Returns from over 5000 of the 6303 California precincts gave Stephens 161,417 and Rolph 142,869.

LOS ANGELES, August 29.—Complete returns from all but 67 Southern California precincts this afternoon gave Stephens 54,422 and Rolph 19,319.

AMERICANS IN THE AIR

BROUGHT DOWN TWENTY ENEMY PLANES IN TWO WEEKS AND DROPPED NEARLY SIX TONS OF BOMBS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, August 29.—Newspapers here declare that during the first two weeks of August Americans brought down twenty German airplanes and probably accounted for eleven others. They made 964 flights, fought 84 battles and dropped 11,600 pounds of bombs.

QUIET ON THE BORDER

NOGALES, Arizona, August 29.—One hundred shots were fired across the border last night in the Mexican outbreak. The Americans fired one volley of eighteen shots from a machine gun. Quiet reigns this morning.

SEED POTATOES

SHOULD BE TREATED TO KILL DISEASE GERMS BEFORE PLANTING

Freeman Kelley indorses the declarations of other horticulturists that now is the time to plant cabbage, peas and root crops for fall and winter garden. This is also the time to put in potatoes though seed is getting scarce. In this connection he puts considerable emphasis on the need to immerse seed in a corrosive sublimate preparation to kill the spores of scab and the germs of other potato diseases. This is good business judgment as it is a serious loss to put time and money into the production of a potato crop and then harvest a yield of poor, scabby tubers. Following are the general directions for making the preparation and applying it:

Make a solution by dissolving 4 ounces of corrosive sublimate in about two quarts of hot water in a glass or earthen jar. Be sure it is fully dissolved. Add the solution to thirty gallons of cold water in a wooden container. In this preparation the seed potatoes should be soaked for one and a half hours, then drained dry. The same solution can be used four or five times. For treating the seed used in a small family garden, a much smaller amount will be needed, and it can probably be secured from the druggists, who will prepare it if requested.

CAME HOME TO REGISTER

Harris Roake, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Roake of 320 West Tenth street, has just returned from Muskegon, Michigan, where he has been employed in the Continental Motor Company factories, which are executing large government contracts. He is nineteen years of age and with the strong probability that he would be called to service in the army, he got homesick and decided to return to Southern California to register and visit his family. He is now assisting his father at the Roake Garage. He says everything has been put on a dollars and cents basis in the East and there is no free service anywhere. If you want air for your tires you drop a nickel in the slot and then make your own connections. For housing a machine over night the charge everywhere is $1. On the way home he stopped at Billings, Montana, to look around. While he was there a hailstorm laid the grain fields flat. He says California is Home. Sweet Home for him.

Y. M. C. A. WAR WORKERS

Alton M. Brooks, who enlisted for Y. M. C. A. war work some time ago, is still in training at Columbia University in New York. He has been transferred from the French to the Italian Division and may be sent to the Austrian front. He writes that ten out of every thousand men are sent to Italy. There is also a call for men to go to Mesopotamia to work with the English army. He is giving two periods a day to the study of Italian and drills occupy a good part of his afternoons.

John Cotton of San Rafael, who left Glendale about the same time that Mr. Brooks went, was sent to Y. M. C. A. work in France and his friends here have received word of his safe arrival "over there." Mrs. Cotton is visiting her mother, Mrs. Campbell, at San Ysidro near San Diego, and is expected to return to her home at 837 San Rafael street early next week.

THE VOTE FOR ASSEMBLYMAN

Returns from 53 precincts out of a total of about 104 precincts in the 61st Assembly District indicate that the following vote was polled in those precincts by the five candidates for the office named on the Republican ticket:

John Robert White, Jr.	1171
Dr. Jessie Russell	522
Arthur G. Lindley	423
Finnall	309
P. S. McNutt	187

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

In honor of the birthday of Mrs. Pack, 430 South Adams street, a most delightful dinner party was given by Mrs. F. E. Wilkinson, on Wednesday evening. During the afternoon Mrs. Pack received many friends who called to wish her a happy birthday and many lovely gifts were given her—choice fruits and flowers were generously bestowed by many old-time friends.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair to night and Friday. Warm in the interior. Westerly winds.

WORK IN RUSSIA

NEPHEW OF FREDERICK A. FIELD SECRETARY OF VLADIVOSTOK Y. M. C. A.

Mrs. Dennis Goodsill, sister-in-law of Mrs. Frederick A. Field, who came to attend the funeral of her brother and has since been the guest of Mrs. Field and her daughter, returns today to her home in Berkeley, California. Her oldest son, Frederick Field Goodsill, was named for her brother. He was graduated from the State University and was so good a student that he won a scholarship which took him to a Theological Seminary in Hartford, Conn. There he did such excellent work that after two years he was given another scholarship to Berlin. From there he went to Turkey and entered upon educational work in West Central Turkish College, maintained by the Congregationalists at Amtav. He remained there seven years and came back on leave about the time the war broke out. After remaining in this country a year, he took up Y. M. C. A. war work and went to Russia and to Roumania, where he spent seven months. When he returned to the United States he entertained the hope that he could arrange for his wife to go back to Europe with him to do relief work, for she has had experience as a trained nurse, but she is the mother of three young children and it did not seem best. He is now in Vladivostok as general secretary of the city Y. M. C. A. there, with four men, two of them Russian interpreters, who work under his direction, the other two being Americans. Letters which he has written to friends here indicate that the duties of his staff include looking after the welfare of the men on the U. S. S. Brooklyn, of which we have heard recently through C. A. Fromm, Jr., whose letter was published in a recent issue of the Evening News.

One of the Y's is a professional director in physical training and he plans to teach all the men on the Brooklyn to swim who do not already know how. Various other activities for which there seems to be need, are being carried on, including among other things the organization of a boy scout team among the native boys at Vladivostok. The use of part of a large warehouse has been secured for games, entertainments, and popular lectures. The fact that Vladivostok is densely crowded has made the work of organization hard, but the local government appears to be friendly and disposed to further the enterprise. The Y. M. C. A. is also working among the Czech-Slavic troops now at Vladivostok, whom Mr. Goodsill pronounces a fine body of men. He also speaks appreciatively of the hearty co-operation of the Japanese, who have been ready to help in all possible ways.

Mrs. Goodsill has another son in war service who is a sergeant with an Aviation Corps in France, as driver of a truck for a stationary observation balloon.

SPECIAL RED CROSS WORK

Mrs. Ryerson of Madison court, wife of Lieutenant Harold S. Ryerson of the U. S. N., is now in San Francisco engaged in special literary work which may keep her there for several weeks. She has by no means forsaken the Red Cross work which she started for the Los Angeles Chapter, viz., the manufacture of children's dresses for which she made the designs. Exceedingly pretty things have been turned out by Mrs. Ryerson and the corps of about fifteen young ladies who have been working with her, and the net returns to the chapter from sales made have been very gratifying. She writes that she now has orders ahead for $200 worth. Several young women from this city, among others Mrs. Noble Ripley and Miss Lucile Barnes, have been helping her. Mrs. Willard, mother of Mrs. Ryerson, is going to her home at San Rafael Heights, Pasadena, in the near future.

COMMUNITY SINGING

The committee which has charge of the arrangements for the Community Sing to take place this (Thursday) evening at Glendale Union High School under the leadership of Prof. Hugo Kirchoffer of Hollywood, believes that Glendale citizens will welcome an opportunity for training in the singing of patriotic songs. They are an important feature of every public gathering in these war times and we should know how to sing them as they should be sung, and learn all the new good war songs which are cheering our boys in field and trench. Everybody is urged to come out tonight to the High School at 7:45. Prof. Kirchoffer will bring fifty singers from Hollywood.

KEEP UP FULL STEAM

Encouraging reports from the war front should not be the means of detracting from war prosecuting energies. Every American citizen should keep up full steam pressure and do his utmost to bring the war to a speedy and democratic treaty end. Everybody working in war activities means more work done and not less for each person doing the work.

"Onward, onward to defeat the Kaiser" should be firmly fixed in the mind of every American citizen.

KNOW WHEREOF YOU SPEAK

Now since the primary election is something of the past, and what may be said cannot be construed as having any personal reference to candidates, the editor of the Evening News would like to remind all people who profess any degree of fairness toward others, not to circulate harmful reports until it is known beyond a doubt that these reports are true. In the campaign just closed, men of apparently good standing in Glendale gave recognition to some of the most damnable political misrepresentations that could come to the mind of a human being.

NEW PRIMARY LAW NEEDED

Very strange things have taken place at the recent primary election that very much complicate getting a true expression of the will of the people. In the first place the people will not come out and vote at a primary election. Less than fifty per cent of the registered vote was cast at Tuesday's primary. The law as it now stands, allowing the name of a candidate to appear on all party tickets, is unfair and will always be a source of trouble.

The principle of allowing people of various political parties the right to choose their candidates is good, but the present system allows the politician to have a chance to get in his work. The man who will invent a punctureless automatic automobile tire and the man who will present an honest and satisfactory way of nominating party candidates will do a service for his country that can not be paid for in dollars and cents.

DAY OF PARTY ORGAN PAST

The day of the party organ has passed. No self-respecting newspaper belongs to that class. A paper may be Republican or Democratic without being under orders from an organization. People no longer take party organs. They want a paper to be conscientious and self-reliant. It must not be a part of a machine. It can support the principles of its party without being under any obligation to support its candidates. A candidate may be nominated by a clique and represent nothing but the appetite of a lot of greedy partisans. Then it is the duty of a true party paper to turn its back on the ticket and support only the best men on it. This situation makes it the duty of managers of a party to see that only the candidates are nominated who represent the best aspirations of that party. Hereafter a nomination does not mean an election. Party managers should understand that and take into consideration the personality of the candidate. There are signs that this is not always done, but the nominations go on regardless of the opposition to the candidates. The people are going to vote for the best and so the purpose should be to nominate the best men.—Ohio State Journal.

YOUR CONSCIENCE—AND SUGAR

The other day a woman boasted that she had bought six pounds of sugar by going to each of the three stores near her home. "But if I didn't use it, someone else would," she said cheerfully.

That's just the point!

She has kept that sugar from some one who really needed it. She might as well have left it on a high wall, out of reach of the people below who struggled in vain to get it.

There is one-half of our normal supply available for home consumption. Any person using or hoarding more than her share based on that ratio is lessening the fraction for others. "Like taking candy from a child," we used to say of a particularly mean transaction. Now each of us is in danger of stealing whenever we sweeten our tea.

The person who takes more than his share from the nation's sugar bowl, is more than a slacker; he is a traitor to his countrymen.

One-half of our normal supply for home consumption—that means that each must greatly reduce his demand. When our ordinary home consumption is cut to meet the requirements, we have 2 lbs. a month left for each person, only about an ounce per day. It will take thought to use it to best advantage. With the 3 rounded teaspoonsful that make up the daily ounce we cannot have sugar-

HAPPENINGS IN STATE

SAN FRANCISCO—Separated from his wife during the San Francisco fire in April, 1906, J. W. Everhart spent seven years in search for her. Failing to find any trace, he believed her dead. Recently he met her in Sacramento. As he had remarried in 1913, he has filed a suit for divorce from his second wife, saying he did not knowingly commit bigamy.

MARYSVILLE, Cal.—Robert Hendricks while out prospecting near here discovered a rich ledge of chrome ore but found to his surprise that the ore was guarded by a den of eleven rattlesnakes. He was forced to fight and kill the reptiles before he could gain access to the ore.

MARYSVILLE, Cal.—Clad in the same gown in which her great grandmother was married one hundred and eighty years ago, Miss Frances Myers, popular Butte girl, became the bride of Rush H. Hendricks, San Francisco, here.

SAN FRANCISCO—He didn't know where he was going but he was on his way. Nick Lichnowski, a Russian alien, applied at the Custom House for a passport "to see the world." He was asked by Frank N. Bauskett where he wished to go. "Java, Madagascar, Borneo—any place you think I ought to go," replied the wanderlust bitten youth. "How would you like traveling in France?" inquired Bauskett. Lichnowski, however, has decided to settle down here, as he failed to identify himself with the Russian consul and the passport was refused.

LONG BEACH, Cal.—He kills 'em, eight hours a day. That is what J. E. Osborn of Sawtelle, does to mosquitoes and gets paid a regular salary from the county. Armed with a squirt gun he invades the swamps in the vicinity of Long Beach and San Pedro, in search of potential mosquitoes. He dips up a cupful of the water under suspicion and if it contains any "wrigglers" the entire pool is given a distillate spraying. Some of the pools are drained, when possible.

BERKELEY, Cal.—A military and naval administrative board will be formed at the University of California, according to President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, to have jurisdiction over various military schools for enlisted men and certain proposed and established courses for naval training and over the new Students' Army Training corps unit, which will soon be established at the university. Dr. T. M. Putnam has been named as chairman of this board. The members of the board will co-operate to the fullest degree with the academic heads and commanding officers of the established and proposed schools.

SACRAMENTO—So successful has been the state land settlement farm at Durham, Butte county, that Governor William D. Stephens has decided to recommend to the next legislature that similar farms be established in other parts of the state, it has been announced. According to reports, enough land in the Durham tract already has been sold to reimburse the state treasury for the $250,000 appropriated for the farm. Governor Stephens' plan is to use these farm settlements to rehabilitate returned soldiers and sailors. Representatives of the land settlement boards of Oregon and Washington visited the Durham tract and declare that it is the solution of caring for returned soldiers and sailors.

SANTA ANA—California's walnut crop will be a bumper this year, according to local walnut men. It is also predicted that a higher price will be paid for walnuts this year than last. Owing to changing of crop conditions in the last few weeks a revision of early estimates has been necessary. It has been estimated that No. 2 nuts will run about 5 per cent with jumbos at a like rate.

WILLOWS, Cal.—A wholesale slaughter of ducks, in order to protect rice interests of California, is possibly the only way to rid the rice belt of the pests, according to Dr. Alexander Wetmore, biologist in the employ of the Federal government. Poisoned barley will probably be used, as it is stated that grain-poisoned ducks are still fit for human consumption. Dr. Wetmore, however, refused to make any definite statement as to what the Federal government would do in dealing with the situation.

War Time Sweeteners

AMERICA has several excellent war time sweeteners that will be used largely during the shortage in the sugar supply.

They are maple sugar, syrups, honey and molasses and may be used in preparing desserts and other dishes requiring sweetening.

When a cup of syrup or honey is used to replace a cup of sugar the liquid in the recipes should be decreased one-fourth. One-third of a cupful of sugar is equivalent to one-third of a cup of honey, about one-half cup of syrup and about one-half cup of corn sugar. One-fourth of a cup of sugar is equal to about one-half cup of syrup or one-third cup of corn sugar. One tablespoon of sugar is equal to one tablespoon of honey, about one and one-half tablespoons of syrup and one and one-third tablespoons of corn sugar.

Sugar may be saved by the use of raisins, dates, figs, dried pears and fruit pastes used on the breakfast cereals.

Fruit marmalades, butters and jellies should be used to take the place of the ordinary sweetening at a meal and not as accessories to it. Fruits may be preserved without sugar. It may be added when sugar is more plentiful.

Preserving demands this year a thin syrup instead of a heavy syrup.

If sugar is used one-half of the amount may be replaced by another sweetener.

Drying is a means of preserving (without sugar) apples, cherries, strawberries and black caps.

When ready to use they may have added the needed sugar in the form of a syrup. When sugar is more plentiful fruit juices may be made into jellies or may be used as fruit juices with or without sugar, as beverages, fruit gelatins and frozen desserts.

Fresh fruits supply the place of sugar in the diet. They should be used freely. Desserts where sugar is scarce may be made of gelatins, junkets, custards, puddings and cakes.

made icings, or liberally sweetened breakfast cereals.

Thoughtful action is the solution of the difficulty. The housewives of the United States have already joined hands and made a chain to the Atlantic ports, where stevedores load the sugar for our soldiers. Now it must pass quicker and in greater quantity along that chain, growing grain by grain until the deficit is made up.

To get the needed supply to the trenches we must watch our own share jealously. America must keep dividing by two and keep passing one-half along to Europe.

MISS BREHM HERE NEXT SUNDAY NIGHT

Arrangements are made for the combined service this coming Sunday evening at 8 o'clock of the Lutheran and Congregational Churches to meet in the Lutheran church, corner Fifth and Maryland. Miss Marie C. Brehm, a temperance worker of national interest, will give the address. Miss Brehm has spoken to Glendale audiences, and her personality and the message she brings, the enthusiasm she arouses, are delightful. Those who have once heard her are desirous to hear her again. She will be in the Lutheran church this coming Sunday night at 8 o'clock. All welcome.

MILK IN THE DIET

In the food consumed by the average family milk and its products furnish 20 per cent of the heat units; in fact, scarcely a meal is served without some dairy product. It is doubtful whether there is a more widely used food in the world than milk or some of its products.

Children, who require growth-producing foods, and invalids, whose bodies have to combat disease and repair wastes, require milk.

The Columbus avenue P.-T. A. will meet at the school Friday at 1:30 p. m. for Junior Red Cross work. It is hoped that every member will come out as there is quite a large quota of work to be finished by the first of September and help is needed to finish it in time.

Miss Pace of Los Angeles, accompanied by her nurse, has come out to Glendale to get the benefit of our pure air and water. She has been an invalid for several years and her doctor praises Glendale very highly along these lines of pure air and good water.

Miss Helen Wallace of 441 Cedar street has just returned from spending the summer at Pine Crest near Big Bear Lake in the San Bernardino mountains. She has gained ten pounds in weight and says she never felt so well in her life. Mountain air evidently agrees with her.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Reynolds, who have been living at 1501 Gilbert street, have taken an apartment in the high residence, 136 East Colorado. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds came from Los Angeles a year ago and report that they are more than satisfied with the change. Mr. Reynolds is a real estate salesman.

Jack Wagon says he does not wish to take advantage of the fisherman's prerogative of exaggerating when relating his exploits with the hook and line. On his recent trip to Bear Lake he said he caught some fine fish and had them every day, but was incorrectly quoted as having caught the limit every day of his stay there.

Mrs. P. A. Wells, Chairman of Rugs for the Conservation Department of the Junior Red Cross, reports that she now has a stock of eight handsome rag rugs which will be on sale and display at the Red Cross Shop on Brand boulevard early next week. Dimensions are 30x54 inches. They are in light blue, pink, and hit and miss colorings, and will be sold at reasonable figures.

Miss A. C. Terry, teacher of Dramatic Art in Glendale Union High School, has leased a home on Lomita avenue near Brand boulevard and expects before many weeks have passed to be housekeeping there in proper style with her family around her. Her father and mother are coming from Madison, Wisconsin, to live with her but have not yet informed her just when they will start.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Learned are enjoying a visit from their daughter Mary, who has been spending the summer at Mountain View. She will teach in a private school in Pomona this fall but will first attend a teachers' institute in Santa Ana. Another visitor at the Learned homestead is Merton Baker from Australia. He has been attending school in Washington, D. C. From here he will go to Loma Linda to enter a four-year medical course.

Mrs. Warren of 1634 West Broadway is spending a few days with a friend in Los Angeles.

Elder Clifford A. Cole and family arrived at home Monday from Forest Home, where they spent three weeks, resting.

Mrs. Lou White Jones, who has been the guest of Mrs. William H. Hyatt of 1632 West Broadway for the past month, returned this morning to her home at 431 Temple street, Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bannock and daughter Iris May Bannock, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bannock and family, of 1020 Chestnut street, are leaving Saturday for ten days' camping at Laguna Beach. Miss Bannock is entering the State University this fall and will leave for Berkeley about the 24th of September.

Goldie Martin and family, of this city, who went to San Pedro soon after school closed, have leased a house there and plan to remain for the winter. Berna Martin, who was graduated from Union High in June, will go north to enter the State University.

Charles Bruck and family, of Glendale avenue, have gone to San Pedro to join the colony of Martins, Danners and others from Glendale. Mrs. Chadwick and Miss Chadwick, mother and sister of Mrs. Danner, are occupying the Danner home at 331 Gardena avenue.

Misses Regina and Winifred Bacon are coming up from San Pedro to spend the week end at their home, 115 San Fernando boulevard. Winifred will come home to stay when the High School opens, but her sister will remain at the beach, where the climate agrees with her better than it does further inland.

The home of John Seaman on Central avenue, who is now residing in Middletown, Ohio, has been leased to Mr. and Mrs. Woolley, former residents, who have recently returned to this city. Mrs. Woolley is a sister of Wesley Bullis, and the Seaman house, which is opposite the Bullis residence, will be a very pleasant location for her.

V. Price Brown came home from Fresno and set a good example by casting his vote at the primaries. He took his family back with him. They will make Fresno their future home as Mr. Brown has a fine position there. Geo. Blech and family, of 1318 Milford, have rented the Brown property, northwest corner of Louise street and California avenue (2nd street) and will move in the first of September.

The report of the lawn wedding which appeared in yesterday's issue should read: The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Martha E. H. Taylor of Glendale, but formerly of Gardena. One sister is now stationed at Solusi Mission, South Africa. Mrs. Morgan with her husband spent several years in Central America in mission work. So Mrs. Henderson will be the third one of the family to engage in the foreign mission work.

Mrs. T. C. Brockenbrow of 825 West Colorado street has been entertaining a house party of old friends who are leaving today. It has included Mr. Heinemann, his son and wife from La Mesa, Arizona, Miss Heinemann from Texas, and Mrs. Duce of San Bernardino. Mrs. Brockenbrow came from Texas and her friends, like herself, were born and grew up in the Lone Star state. Their last reunion took place about four years ago, and they greatly enjoyed this one.

Mrs. Sydney A. Hendee of 118 South Maryland avenue has received word that her grandson, Lieut. Sydney Snyder, has been transferred from the Presidio, San Francisco, to Camp Dix, near Trenton, N. J. He had five years of military training previous to his joining the army and has been selected by the War Department to give special training to the new recruits. Like others, he is very anxious to get to the front. Another grandson, also a Lieutenant, landed in France on July 22nd and will no doubt soon see active service.

"FRANGLAIS"—NEW TONGUE

"Franglais" is a new language that you hear in France today. The word is made out of francsais and anglais—the French words for French and English—and the language itself is made out of a fearful jumble of words that were perfectly good when they played by themselves, but don't always mix.

Franglais is what you hear where American and English men and women without a very good knowledge of their hosts' own speech find themselves at work alongside of French men and French women—soldiers, nurses, relief workers, shopkeepers and all sorts of folks.

American Red Cross workers say that when you gather up several hundred little French babies who have hardly begun to speak any language at all, and several hundred little ones who are speaking the universal incomprehensible language of babyhood, the results are one degree harder to understand than grown-up Franglais.—Fargo Courier-News.

THE VOICE DIVINE

By F. Lee Chauvan
Let us then labor for an inward stillness—
An inward stillness and an inward healing;
That perfect silence when the lips and heart
Are still, and we no longer entertain
Our own imperfect thoughts and vain opinions,
But God alone speaks in us, and we wait
In singleness of heart that we may know
His will, and in the silence of our spirits
That we may do His will, and do that only.
—Longfellow.

I prayed to hear the Voice Divine. I bowed
In aisle of oak, where the leaves gently fell—
Their expression lost in their season's change—
And rested sacredly on the soil. My words
Trembled in my heart, and with the silence
I tried to blend my soul, my senses hush,
That I might hear the Voice Divine speak in me.
An oriole on limb of tree, bending
To the breeze, made eloquent the hour with song
That melted in my prayer's love. Then I looked Afar in the azure-veiled perspective
Of my aisle, and saw on a mountain top
The white of snow, the winter's sole treasure.
And I felt the spell of its mystery, My senses captive held to nature's charm,
I worshipped in a sweet idolatry. My prayer was vain. The Voice spoke not in me.

I knelt in temple made by mortal hands.
With the organ's sign I sighed for the Voice
To hear. The song-glory of the choristers.
The hushed piety in the music's pause.
The fervor of the preacher's text of faith,
Were an unction to the silent prayer breathed
In the litanies of my soul's desire.
In the moment's sacred calm I listened,
Listened—till the chorister's last amen
Was faintly cadenced in the sacristy.
But no voice spoke to me articulate
To my soul. Before me, in arched recesses
Of the altar, were carved divinities
In voiceless marble—voiceless to my plea.
Then in dreamy idleness, I painted
On the canvas of my mind the splendor
Of the altar and the temple's beauty.
My prayer's theme was lost in my reverie.

In the loved silence of my home—alone,
Where no rite's mysteries my senses held,
I prayed to hear the Voice Divine.
My prayer,
With fervor wild, became the storm-paasion
Of my soul. My mind was barred to all thought
Intrusive in my one supplication.
Then deep in my being was a stillness,
A solace of expression infinite.
The truer light pierced my corporal mask,
My real life revealed. The Voice Divine
I heard. 'Twas with my soul incorporate.
I felt the benediction of its breath
Revive in me a grace long lost. All life
I held in communion. From ev'ry bud
Of nature's motherhood Divinity
Ministered to my prayer in my retreat.
The breath of love divine made in my heart
A kingdom universal, with justice,
Mercy-crowned, its sovereign. No cruelty
Usurped its dominion. The silent prayer
Of the animal for mercy I prayed.
For life, to me, was one fraternity.
In its voice of pain ev'ry syllable
Was articulate to my sympathies,
And with its joy for right emancipate.
Was my joy in unison. My spirit paused.
In my communion, I held the chalice
Of my kingdom's love to humanity.

Kaffir grains are increasing in production in this country with astonishing speed. The crop of 53,858,000 bushels in 1916 increased to 75,866,000 bushels in 1917 and the prospect for 1918, based on the conditions of July 1, is a crop of 110,005,000 bushels, or more than twice the crop of two years ago.

TUJUNGA

There was a very large attendance at the Red Cross on Friday and many garments were finished, and an earnest appeal for help on the Pasadena quota. On Tuesday not so many were in attendance but some took work home to finish off. It was decided to try and make two hundred garments before the first of October. This means work and it is hoped every woman will bend her energy to it, notwithstanding the hot weather and fruit canning. Don't forget to save the fruit pits for the salvage work.

If you want delicious dried peaches peel them before putting out to dry.

Mrs. D. C. Dean was appointed Sugar Dispenser for Tujunga by Mrs. E. M. Mumford, Woman Director, L. A. County Food Administration. In a letter sent she says: "The Government has been able to grant a further allotment of sugar to California owing to the large quantity of fruit it produces and will need to preserve for winter use. These permits to be issued as the grocers have sugar to deliver." The slips can be had at the store of Dean and Company in Tujunga, and can be used at any grocery, if they have the sugar.

"Tad" Wieman came home on Monday from Berkeley, where he has finished his ground work in aviation, and will leave with the rest of his contingent on Thursday for Texas. We all wish him a sure and safe return to our midst when the war is over.

There will be a social dance on Saturday night, August 31, by the Senior Dancing Club at Bolton Hall. Everybody is invited to attend. Good music will be had from Pasadena.

A large rattlesnake having nine rattles invaded the rabbit hutch belonging to Wilmont Parcher and killed five young rabbits before he was found and dispatched.

A brush fire was started by some careless person on Walnut near the entrance to the Big Tujunga, and with the high wind blowing threatened disaster for a time. It was soon controlled and we hope the guilty one may be punished.

The home of Mrs. Fairfield was invaded by some friends Saturday evening to remind her that her natal day was at hand. Those who were not dressed as farmerettes, donned the old colonial gowns. No gentlemen were invited but they had a jolly time and served cream and cake to each guest. It is reported that a few ate three dishes of cream. Mrs. Fairfield was sweet sixteen on the 25th of August 18—?

Charles W. Dean and wife returned to the valley on Saturday after a week's outing at Catalina and the beaches.

Mrs. Marsten of Sunset boulevard had the misfortune to break a rib last Saturday, when a refractory garden valve refused to turn and suddenly giving a wrench it was loosened and she fell forward, breaking one of the upper ribs. Her son came out Monday and took her into Los Angeles for medical treatment.

Mrs. D. C. Dean was in Pasadena on Monday and brought home yarn for hose, scarfs and helmets. Yarn for sweaters will be coming on the next free wool distribution.

Miss Salstrom, who taught in the Tujunga schools for so long, will go to Holtville for the year and Miss Wilson to Arizona.

It is a source of pride to people of this village to know that H. Darwin Kirschman, son of A. I. Kirschman of Walnut drive, has gained the Dupont scholarship at Throop College.

This was awarded to him strictly on his being the highest standing. Mr. Kirschman will graduate in September and will be a candidate for the master's degree in 1919. It will be remembered that he won the highest honors at the Glendale High School. The scholarship carries with it $350 in cash. Mr. Kirschman is duly registered for selection by Uncle Sam and may be called for chemical work.

The following from the Spartanburg Herald was sent by Earl Sims, who is an officer in the Truck Company mentioned. Earl is enjoying life and sends regards to all friends in the valley:

You have probably observed the rollicking, carefree chaps who drive the big army trucks between the railroad station and the camp, and about the streets of the city. If you have not, take a good look at them today. They have not been to bed since Tuesday night of last week, and probably will not get to bed again until the last of this week. When there is a big troop movement into camp, such as has been going on for the past ten days, there is no rest for the truck drivers. They are on the move day and night, and they have no time for sleeping. They eat at irregular intervals, and catch a nap of an hour or two at a time sitting in their trucks, between the arrival of trains. If they get a chance to strip and stand for a few minutes under a shower bath once a day they consider themselves lucky. Of course, after this rush is over, they will get a furlough, may be for ten or fifteen days, but for the time being they are working day and night and they seem to thrive on it. They are as happy as larks, and it has not occurred to a single one of them to complain about hard work. They believe they are leading a great life and they would be ashamed to weaken. The arrival of the 10,000 Minnesotans meant long, hard work for the truck drivers. They not only had to haul the men from the station to camp, but baggage and supplies of every kind had to go from the camp warehouses to the regimental camp sites. Just as the last of the Minnesotans came in the colored draft men began arriving and 500 artillerymen came in from Camp Jackson unexpectedly. The truck drivers will get caught up by the end of the week, and then, after a few days rest, another troops movement begins. Ten thousand new men will come into camp during the week of August 5th.

TITLES WILL REWARD SOME ITALIAN HEROES

By Henry Wood
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
ROME, Aug. 15. (By Mail.)—The Italian College of Heraldry has decided that title of nobility will be conferred by it in recognition of distinguished services rendered during the war.

These titles will be officially recognized by the Italian government and, being hereditary, will contribute much to re-establishing the old Italian nobility on something of the basis of prestige that it formerly enjoyed.

The conferring of titles of nobility, such as baron, count, and marquis in recognition for services rendered to Italy during the war is pointed out by the College of Heraldry as merely being a continuation of the custom according to which the great majority of titles of nobility were conferred in the past.

While distribution of decorations not only in Italy but in all allied countries for distinguished war services is largely a personal, individual matter for the soldier or officer who has won such a recognition, conferring of titles of nobility will have the distinctive characteristic of recognizing families that have rendered exceptional services to "La Patria."

COURTESY IN PUBLIC SERVICE

The Director-General of the railways in the United States, Mr. McAdoo, did well to take official cognizance of widespread and growing discontent on the part of the traveling public with the treatment accorded it by the railway employees, and to warn all persons engaged on lines under government control that this attitude must be quickly and radically corrected. Some of the reported rudeness, impertinence and insolence may have worked its way down from high official quarters, as a consequence of the government's assumption of authority over the corporations but complaints reaching Mr. McAdoo and mentioned in his order, "that employees are not treating the public with as much consideration and courtesy under government control of the railroads as under private control," are not stated quite fairly, if the impression sought to be conveyed is that the traveling public was, with any degree of uniformity, treated courteously under the old regime. Thousands who, in the past, have had experience at ticket windows, information windows and gates, with baggage men, conductors and brakemen, with high and low railroad officials know better than that. There have, of course, been numerous and splendid exceptions to the rule, and there have been lines, divisions and even systems, where sulleness, sourness and impudence have seldom been evident; but taken on the whole, private management of the railroads is indebted quite as much for its numerous trials, its so-called misfortunes and its recent temporary or permanent abandonment, to a stupid misapprehension of the relationship of the common carrier to the individual as to any other single cause.

Mr. McAdoo need not fear that the government administration of the railroads in this particular will suffer by comparison with private management. What is requisite, however, is that railroad employees who never, under the old system, quite understood that they were servants of the public, shall understand it plainly under the new. This is their status industrially, and this is the status they accept when they take employment on public service corporations, whether governmentally or privately controlled.

Discourtesy in the United States, where formerly it was rarely met with, is not confined to the railroad lines. It is too prevalent at the present time wherever the public is forced to depend temporarily for information, advice or accommodation on public utility servants. The cause is, of course, traceable directly to inefficiency of management. On the well managed railroad or traction line it is seldom met with; on the railroad or traction line that is fraying out at the edges, wearing out at the elbows, and running down at the heel, because of incompetent direction, it is frequently met with. The management of a concern in any line of activity can be fairly judged by the character and conduct of its employees. This is more particularly the case in a public service concern, the quality of whose service, all the way up or down, will be found, with little variation, to be of one kind.

The United States government cannot be justly accused of introducing discourtesy into railroad management; it will however be plainly amenable to severe criticism if it does not promptly and thoroughly weed out of railway employment persons who because of ignorance of the virtue of politeness, or because of an indisposition to be accommodating, or because of general temperamental unfitness, fail to realize that the public is entitled to their respectful consideration, first, last and all the time.—Christian Science Monitor.

FALSE REPORTS NULLIFY CONSERVATION WORK

Warning is issued that pro-Germans and other alien enemies are engaged on an apparent organized campaign of propaganda to break down the conservation program of the United States food administration.

Reports from various sections of California indicate that housewives, and even food administration officials themselves have been approached by these persons who by innuendo and suggestion, have attempted to lead them to believe that further conservation of foodstuffs and increased production has become unnecessary.

Such statements, which have gained wide-spread circulation, are absolutely false, and tend to slacken the efforts of the patriotic public by clouding the real situation.

The wheat saving program remains in force and should be rigidly observed so that America may not only feed the Allied nations, but at the same time build up a great surplus against possible lean years. Under this conservation program householders are still required to use an equal amount of substitute flour with wheat flour and must purchase wheat flour on the fifty-fifty plan. The only change from the former voluntary household saving program is that those who in the beginning went on an absolutely wheatless basis, have been released temporarily from that pledge and may use wheat flour on the fifty-fifty basis. Bakers and restaurants are still under strict regulation in the use of wheat products.

Sugar must be conserved in the households and by commercial users to prevent a serious shortage, while in general all kinds of foods should be used without waste, and production must be maintained at the highest level.

America must not now fall short of her obligations to her own men on the fighting front nor to the soldiers and civilian populations of the Allies in the matter of food merely because of the success of our past efforts. We cannot rest on our oars with the war yet to be won.

Anyone approached by one of these propagandists should report the facts to the Food Administration immediately, giving names and addresses. These reports will be fully investigated.

SOME OF THE BITS YOUR LIBERTY BONDS WILL DO

If you buy a $100 bond of the Fourth Liberty Loan you are lending the United States government enough money to feed a soldier in France a little more than seven months. Or you have furnished enough money to give him a complete outfit of winter and summer clothing, including shoes and stockings and slicker and overcoat and blankets with enough left over to arm him with a good revolver. You have done that much to beat back the Hun.

It takes $35 more to arm him with a rifle with a bayonet on it, and if you buy a second $100 bond you furnish him this rifle and bayonet and 1000 cartridges for it; and there will still be enough of your money left to purchase a good sized bomb to throw in a dugout or demolish a machine gun together with the Huns operating it.

VALUABLE HOG FEEDS

Valuable protein feeds for hogs available for many California farmers have been recommended by the government in recent bulletins as follows:

"Soy beans are valuable to take the place of other protein feeds usually purchased. They make a very satisfactory feed when the beans are fed thrashed, or as hay, or when ground as meal. Soy-bean hay, to be most satisfactory, should be cut early enough to avoid the popping out of the seeds. The leaves and the seed both will be readily eaten when handled in this manner.

"In the Southern States peanuts are quite extensively grown and make a good feed when used as a grazing crop or fed in the form of meal. Velvet beans are largely raised in this section of the country and it is recommended that they be left in the field and grazed.

"Dwarf Essex rape and oats can also be used successfully in the South as a forage crop. Either can be seeded from the last of August to the last of September. Cottonseed meal can be very successfully used in connection with corn as a hardening feed for a period not to exceed 30 days.

"Fish scrap, which has heretofore been used as a fertilizer, has been tried in hog-feeding experiments conducted by the Department of Agriculture, and it has been found that meal made from this material is on a par with tankage when fed to hogs. A number of State experiment stations are now conducting similar experiments in feeding fish meal to hogs."

EGG CONSERVATION

Eggs preserved when they are abundant and cheap means a supply next winter when they may reach extremely high prices.

Late summer is not too late to preserve eggs, but care must be taken that they are strictly fresh.

Two methods of preserving eggs are recommended by specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture—they follow:

Water-glass Method

Use 1 quart of sodium silicate to 9 quarts of water that has been boiled and cooled. Place the mixture in a 5-gallon crock or jar. This will be sufficient to preserve 15 dozen eggs; and the quantity needed to preserve a larger number of eggs will be in proportion.

First, select a 5-gallon crock and clean it thoroughly, after which it should be scalded and allowed to dry.

Second, heat a quantity of water to the boiling point and allow it to cool.

Third, when cool, measure out 9 quarts of water, place it in the crock, and add 1 quart of sodium silicate, stirring the mixture thoroughly.

Fourth, place the eggs in the solution. Be very careful to allow at least 2 inches of the solution to cover the eggs.

Fifth, place the crock containing the preserved eggs in a cool, dry place, well covered to prevent evaporation. Waxed paper covered over and tied around the top of the crock will answer this purpose.

Lime Method

When water glass can not be obtained the following method may be used in its stead. Many consider this method entirely satisfactory, though instances are known in which eggs so preserved have tasted slightly of lime.

Dissolve 2 or 3 pounds of unslaked lime in 5 gallons of water that has previously been boiled and allowed to cool, and allow the mixture to stand until the lime settles and the liquid is clear. Place clean, fresh eggs in a clean earthenware jug or keg and pour the clear limewater into the vessel until the eggs are covered. At least 2 inches of the solution should cover the top layer of eggs.

Sometimes a pound of salt is used with the lime, but experience has shown that in general the lime without the salt is more satisfactory.

WOMEN WIN MEDALS

(By United Press)

LONDON, Aug. 15. (By Mail.)—The first Waac to win the military medal is Unit Administrator Mrs. Margaret A. Campbell Gibson.

She was in charge of a Waac camp which was completely demolished by bombs during an enemy air raid.

Throughout she directed the women with courage and energy. With bombs crashing all around she remained at her post and prevented serious loss of life.

The same award has been made to five nurses.

An ammunition dump had been set on fire by enemy bombs. The only available ambulance for the removal of the wounded had been destroyed.

These nurses, in a neighboring camp, heard of the disaster and drove up with three ambulances, right into the danger zone.

Despite risks arising from various explosions they succeeded in removing all the wounded to safety.

LITTLE CARE REQUIRED TO SAVE SEED

Very little care is required to save seed for a home supply of the crops of which the seeds are eaten, since the seed is well advanced toward maturity when usable. Selection is important in this group, however, especially to insure healthy seed. Any surplus dried seed of these plants may be used for food.

CAN ANY LAND MATCH THIS ITALIAN HERO?

By Henry Wood

(United Press Staff Correspondent) ROME, Aug. 12. (By Mail.)—Cavaliere Antonio Mango of the famous Sassari brigade from Sardinia has the distinction of being the most wounded and the most decorated soldier in the Italian army.

Mango has just 101 wounds to his credit. Two of his brothers have been killed in the war. He spent four months in a prison camp at Mahausen before he succeeded in escaping.

Mango has just received the cross of a Knight of the Order of the Crown of Italy for distinguished services on the field of battle. He has the Italian gold medal for military valor and three silver medals for bravery at the front. He has the medal for having made the Tripoli campaign in 1911 and also the medal for distinguished service rendered during the Messina earthquake.

His military career as an allied soldier has been so remarkable that he has received decorations from all the principal allied countries, including England, France, Belgium and Serbia.

MORE SUGAR-BEET MILLS BUILT

Just 100 sugar-beet mills in the United States now are ready to turn out tons of sugar to furnish energy to our soldiers as soon as the harvesting of the sugar-beet crop begins.

Sixteen of these mills were built during 1917 and equipped for handling the 1917-18 crop. The capacity of these mills ranges from a few hundred tons to 3,000 tons of beets each 24 hours.

The first mill was built in California in 1870. During 1916, 17 mills were built in Wyoming, Idaho, Nebraska, Utah, Oregon, Colorado, Montana, Iowa, California, and Washington.

QUEEN IS REBUKED

(By United Press)

LONDON, Aug. 10. (By Mail.)—Queen Mary has been corrected in public for the first time.

Recently the king and queen were visiting some day nurseries, and the elder children had arranged to present a bouquet to the queen.

So the king would not be left out of it the infants made for him a crown of laurels.

The queen received her bouquet from one of the elder girls with a gracious smile and many kindly remarks, and then a tiny infant came forward with the laurel wreath. The queen held out her hand.

"It's not for you," cried the infant, "it's for the king!"

Whereat both their majesties laughed heartily.

GOVERNMENT SHIPS FISH BY CARLOADS

Carload lots of fish are being shipped regularly each week from the Gulf of Mexico to Nashville, Louisville, and Indianapolis in order to provide those inland cities with fresh fish at low prices. Transportation is being taken care of by an agent of the United States Department of Agriculture working with the Railroad Administration. The distribution of the fish is under the direction of the Federal food administrators of the States and cities in co-operation with the United States Bureau of Fisheries. Plans for extending the service to other cities are now being made.

COMMEND SUNDAY FARM WORK

Judges in Tennessee have refused to punish persons accused of work on farms on Sundays, but have commended them for so doing. This was reported to the Department of Agriculture's recent farm labor conference in Birmingham, Ala. Not long ago the rural churches of Indiana, in a conference at Purdue University, took the position that it is quite right and proper to do farm work on Sunday if that Sunday work is necessary to produce food crops to help whip Germany.

CITY MEN GOOD FARM WORKERS

Use of city men as farm workers in emergency seasons has demonstrated not only that many men employed in cities and towns were reared on farms and are skilled in harvest labor, but also that city men can stand the heat and exertion of the harvest field, and attack their tasks with willingness and patriotic enthusiasm. This was reported by the Federal farm help specialist in Kentucky at the Department of Agriculture's recent harvest labor conference in Birmingham, Ala.

MODERN HIVES INCREASE PROFITS

Hundreds of thousands of bee colonies, representing about one-third of the number kept in the United States, are housed in log "gums" and in box hives, and produce for their owners an insignificant amount of honey compared with what they might do if they were transferred to movable-frame hives and handled by improved methods.

If all the bee keepers now using box hives would adopt the modern type of movable-frame hive they would not only secure more profit from their bees for themselves but would add many millions of pounds of honey to the nation's supply, according to Farmers' Bulletin 961, Transferring Bees to Modern Hives, by E. L. Sechrist, recently published by the United States Department of Agriculture. The bulletin describes a number of the best methods of transferring from old to new hives. Much of the honey produced by colonies in box hives is wasted by crude methods of securing the crop, the bulletin states, and these colonies are reduced in earning value by uncontrolled swarming and by the annual loss of bees which die in winter because of lack of protection and sufficient food stores.

While bees may be transferred at any season when they are active, the bulletin states that the best time is during the season of fruit bloom when the combs contain little honey, and when the bees will gather nectar rather than rob honey from a hive which is being transferred. Another good time for transferring is immediately after the first swarm of the year when the number of bees in the hive is greatly reduced and when there is no danger of losing or injuring the queen. She goes with the swarm, leaving queen cells in the hive. Transferring when robber bees are active requires that the work be done inside a screened or bee-tight building.

TOO MUCH SUGAR IN JAPAN AND JAVA

(By United Press)

TOKIO, Aug. 1. (By Mail.)—While housewives of America and Europe are suffering from a shortage of sugar, those of the Far East have a superabundance of the sweet. Tokio sugar dealers are wroth, for they fear the product of the Japanese Empire is to be driven off the market, or greatly lowered in value, by sugar imported from Java.

Java is at the bottom of the trouble. With a smaller export demand than usual, its centrifugal sugar has accumulated into great stocks at Batavia and Sourabaya, and consequently prices there are down. This week the prices have dropped from $3.25 to $3.10 a picul (133 pounds), so that the present price at Batavia for centrifugal sugar is about two and a third cents a pound. With higher prices in Japan, it is to be expected that sugar should flow this way. It is being suggested in Tokio that available space on ships plying from Yokohama to San Francisco and Seattle should be devoted to sugar on the ground that it is not economy to waste either ship space or fruit available for canning.

MORE SUGAR FOR CANNING

According to advice from the State Director of Food Conservation more sugar is to be released for canning. This will enable the local committee to issue permits to families for home canning in larger amounts than before.

We are urged not to allow any fruit to waste. Can it. Can your juice for jelly and make your jelly later. Do not make pound for pound preserves. Be a patriot.

Can. Can. Can. But help to save the sugar.

Mrs. C. E. Hutchison, 200 Orange, Mrs. Eva Barton, 330 N. Howard, Mrs. Bacon, 115 N. San Fernando road, will write permits for sugar. Hours, 8 to 11 a. m.

As the American and French troops drive back the Germans on the western front, Y. M. C. A. war work secretaries establish themselves in their old locations captured by the Huns in the first drive.
